CALENDAR

January 7–15

January 10

An annual tradition combining baseball and rock 'n' roll, Hot Stove Cool Music returns to the Paradise Rock Club. This year's charity concert features baseball personalities such as Hall of Fame writer Peter Gammons and former Red Sox GM Theo Epstein, along with musicians Bill Janovitz, Kay Hanley, Tanya Donelly and more. Refer to listing, page 14.

January 12

Jared Sullinger (pictured) and the rest of the Rajon Rondo-less Boston Celtics take on the surprising New Orleans Pelicans at the TD Garden for a 7:30 p.m. matchup. The Pelicans are led by center Anthony Davis, who is putting up MVP-worthy numbers in only his second year in the NBA. Refer to listing, page 15.

January 14 & 15

Neil deGrasse Tyson—renowned astrophysicist, author, host of TV's new "Cosmos" and director of the American Museum of Natural History's Hayden Planetarium in New York—comes to the Wilbur Theatre, no doubt to enlighten audiences on the mysteries of the universe. Visit thewilbur.com for tickets.

HUB

THE LOST WORLD

WHAT BOSTON'S BUZZING ABOUT

1.5.15

SWEET DREAMS

Boston has a long history with chocolate, going all the way back to the Colonial days. For those in the here and now, however, one of the best ways to get their chocolate fix is by taking a tour. Luckily, the Hub is home to two operators who point chocoholics in the right direction. Old Town Trolley's three-hour One & Only Boston Chocolate Tour (617-269-7010, trolleytours.com/boston) chauffeurs visitors around several sweet sites, including Top of the Hub and The Langham Boston's Chocolate Bar, where they can sample all kinds of chocolate concoctions. Not to be outdone, Boston Chocolate Tours (617-971-8436, bostonchocolatetours.com) has two walking tours—one in the Back Bay that explores Newbury and Boylston streets, and one in the South End—that feature samples of chocolate treats, including cupcakes, from various shops along the route.

PICCOLI PIATTI

Davio's Northern Italian Steakhouse (refer to listing, page 52) in the Back Bay has taken bar snacks to the next level with the recent unveiling of its spuntini menu. The spuntini (Italian for snacks) at Davio's include delectable favorites like fried calamari and mini bruschetta with prosciutto and burrata cheese, as well as such decidedly non-Italian dishes as soft pretzel sticks, Kobe beef sliders, truffle fries with gorgonzola sauce and grilled cheese bites. The regular bar menu, featuring Davio's classics like its famous Philly cheese steak spring rolls, is also available alongside the new offerings, Sunday–Tuesday until 11 p.m. and Wednesday–Saturday until midnight. So when next you belly up to the bar, do so in style by grabbing a slice of pizza and some pancetta popcorn in one of Boston's most elegant settings.

THE REAL BOSTON CELTICS

As the first event for Harvard Square's seventh annual Winter Carnival, Boston's Celtic Music Fest (passim.org/bcmfest) gets things off on the right foot with a lively lineup celebrating the area's Scottish, Irish and Cape Breton-influenced music and dance scene. Presented by legendary folk venue Club Passim (refer to listing, page 27) on January 9 & 10, the first night features a concert of traditional and contemporary Celtic music at Passim, which later hosts Boston Urban Ceilidh, a Celtic-themed dance party. The next day is highlighted by "Dayfest," consisting of not only family-friendly music and storytelling at Passim but also participatory events, including Scottish country dance lessons, at the First Parish Church (3 Church St., Cambridge) around the corner. The scene shifts back to Passim for the BCMFest Nightcap concert with the all-female Celtic band Long Time Courting and special guests.

CRYING UNCLE

After Christopher Durang's uproarious comedy Vanya and Sonia and Masha and Spike (refer to listing, page 17) made its Broadway debut in 2013, it took home the coveted Tony Award for Best Play. Now it makes its Hub premiere at the Boston University Theatre courtesy of the Huntington Theatre Company. Using the timeless works of Russian playwright Anton Chekhov as a jumping off point, the show depicts siblings Vanya and Sonia as their quiet life in the country is upended by the arrival of their movie star sister Masha with dim-witted boy toy Spike in tow. Combining Chekhovian themes of loss and disappointment with Disney, voodoo and The Beatles, Durang's latest masterpiece will leave audiences howling. —Scott Roberto

NORTHERN COMFORT

Set your New Year's resolutions aside and dive into some of the Boston area's best comfort food BY SCOTT ROBERTO

BREAKFAST

Pancakes, waffles, omelets, French toast, home fries—not exactly health food, yet all of these are welcome parts of a hearty American breakfast. For all of that and more, head to either the original Beacon Hill or the newer South Boston location of The Paramount (44 Charles St., 617-720-1152; 667 East Broadway, 617-269-9999; paramountboston.com). Also drink in the kitschy decor at The Friendly Toast (1 Kendall Square, #b3101, Cambridge, 617-621-1200, thefriendlytoast.com) in Kendall Square. Declared one of the best breakfast places in America by Esquire, it boasts six kinds of fresh-baked bread to accompany your meal. And don't forget Zoe's (refer to listing, page 29) in Harvard Square, which offers breakfast all day.

LUNCH

When it comes to Italian food, two comfort food staples spring to mind—pizza and pasta. For the former, head to the original Regina Pizza (refer to listing, page 58) in the North End for outstanding brick oven pies. Just around the corner, homemade pasta is a specialty at Cantina Italiana (refer to listing, page 58), a North End mainstay since 1931. Just across the Rose Kennedy Greenway, Faneuil Hall Marketplace's Quincy Market (4 South Market St., 617-523-1300, faneuilhallmarketplace.com) is jam-packed with vendors offering everything from mac and cheese to clam chowder.

DINNER

Since 1994, sophisticated comfort food has been a specialty at Stephanie's on Newbury (refer to listing, page 53), including shepherd's pie, meatloaf and the gigantic Stephi burger. Classic pub food can be found at both the Sunset Grill & Tap (refer to listing, page 51) in Allston, where you can wash down your curly fries and chicken wings with a brew from a list of hundreds of beers, and The Kinsale Irish Pub & Restaurant (refer to listing, page 56) near City Hall, which boasts a diverse menu highlighted by Hibernian favorites like fish & chips and beef & Guinness stew.

DESSERT

As long as we're indulging in comfort food, what provides more culinary satisfaction than an after-dinner treat? Dessert specialist Finale (refer to listing, page 60) has been satiating sweet tooths since 1998, offering upscale versions of classics like Boston cream pie, as well as its signature molten chocolate cake, at both the original Park Square location and another outpost in Harvard Square. Donuts hit the spot any time of day, especially at gourmet bake shop Union Square Donuts (20 Bow St., Somerville, 617-209-2257, unionsquaredonuts.com), which is famous for its maple bacon version of everyone's favorite pastry. Chocolate is a go-to mood-corrector for millions, and the factory store of Taza Chocolate (561 Windsor St., Somerville, 617-284-2232, tazachocolate.com) provides some of the best in the country.

BOSTON CREAM PIE

Perhaps no dessert is so closely associated with a city than the beloved Boston cream pie. But its association with the Hub and the surrounding region goes deeper than just a name. And all this despite the fact that it has the most misleading name in the history of baked goods.

The origin of Boston cream pie officially goes back to 1856, when a French chef known as Monsieur Sanzian was credited with inventing it in the kitchen of the historic Parker House Hotel (the oldest continuously operated hotel in the U.S., now known as the Omni Parker House Hotel) in downtown Boston. Designed as two golden cakes layered with pastry cream, glazed with chocolate and dressed with slivered almonds, it was originally referred to as "Chocolate Cream Pie." When the "pie" was invented, chocolate was mainly consumed in America as a beverage or pudding, so the use of a chocolate coating was very innovative. This story, though, has its doubters, and there are even those brazen enough to claim that Beantown's quintessential confection was invented in New York. Apparently they're not satisfied with just the cheesecake.

As far as the "pie" part of the name, the exact reason for the misnomer is lost to history, though the likely culprit is that the dessert was allegedly based on Colonial-era pudding-cake pies, as well as the fact that, in 19th century New England, pie tins were more common than cake pans. Regardless of the naming snafu, the dessert became so popular that over the years baking giants like Betty Crocker and Duncan Hines got into the act with boxed mix versions. For enterprising home bakers out there, the "original" recipe is available on the Omni Parker House website (omnihotels.com/blog/boston-cream-pie-recipe-original).

The legendary cake has such a strong following in Massachusetts that in 1996 it was named the Commonwealth's official dessert, beating out such classic Bay State treats as the Toll House cookie, the Fig Newton and Indian pudding. Canton, Mass.-based super-chain Dunkin' Donuts has further popularized the chocolatey sweet with its custard-filled "Boston Kreme" donut, which was declared the official donut of Massachusetts in 2003. And what self-respecting dessert doesn't have its own national holiday? Boston cream pie does, on October 23. —Scott Roberto

PANORAMA's GUIDE TO

OUTDOOR WINTER FUN

Enjoy the great outdoors, snow or shine, all over the Boston area and beyond with skiing, sledding, snowshoeing and more BY SCOTT ROBERTO

Boston Common

When the conditions are right, Boston Common is a great spot to take the family sledding. One of the best spots from which to engage in wintry gliding is near the Soldiers and Sailors Monument on top of Flagstaff Hill, the park's highest point. The Common is also a great spot for snowshoeing, cross-country skiing or simply building a snowman.

Flagstaff Hill lies just to the southwest of the Boston Common Frog Pond

Frog Pond Ice Skating Rink

Since 1998, this venue in the heart of Boston has hosted thousands of eager skaters, offering skate rentals, sharpening services and the Frog Pond Café, serving hot cocoa as well as snacks from soup to grilled cheese and mac & cheese to Belgian waffles.

Theater

BLUE MAN GROUP
Charles Playhouse, 74 Warrenton St., 800-BLUE-MAN, blueman.com. Ongoing. $55 & 105. This giddily subversive off-Broadway hit serves up outrageous and inventive theater where three muted, blue-painted performers spoof both contemporary art and modern technology. Wry commentary and bemusing antics are matched only by the ingenious ways in which music and sound are created. The show has recently been updated with new performance pieces and music.

BREATH & IMAGINATION
Paramount Theatre, 559 Washington St., 617-824-8400, artsemerson.org. Beginning Jan 27. $25-79. Author, poet and classically trained singer Daniel Beaty brings the life and career of renowned African-American vocalist Roland Hayes to the stage. Through narrative, movement and song, Beaty shares Hayes' journey from singing spirituals in a church in rural Georgia to performing before the crowned heads of Europe and becoming the first African-American soloist to perform with the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

RED HOT PATRIOT:
THE KICK-ASS WIT OF MOLLY IVINS
Lyric Stage Company, 140 Clarendon St., 617-585-5678, lyricstage.com. Through Jan 31. $24-56. A dyed-in-the-wool liberal from deep in the heart of Texas, Molly Ivins used her rapier wit to become one of America's top political columnists, satirists and rabble-rousers. Through personal anecdotes laced with Molly's humor and wisdom, this show celebrates her courage and tenacity—even when a complacent America wasn't listening.

THE SECOND GIRL
Huntington Theatre Company, Wimberly Theatre, Calderwood Pavilion at the Boston Center for the Arts, 527 Tremont St., 617-266-0800, huntingtontheatre.org.

Beginning Jan 16. $15–83. With Eugene O'Neill's Long Day's Journey into Night as a backdrop, this story—set in the downstairs world of the Tyrone family kitchen in August 1912—spotlights two Irish immigrant servant girls and the chauffeur as they search for love, success and a sense of belonging in this world premiere by Ronan Noone and directed by Campbell Scott.

VANYA AND SONIA AND MASHA AND SPIKE

Huntington Theatre Company, Boston University Theatre, 264 Huntington Ave., 617-266-0800, huntingtontheatre.org. Through Feb 1. $15–83. In this wickedly wonderful Chekhovian mashup from master of comedy Christopher Durang (Betty's Summer Vacation), Vanya and Sonia's quiet, bucolic life is hilariously upended when their glamorous movie star sister arrives for the weekend with her brawny boy toy in tow.

FATHER COMES HOME FROM THE WARS

Set during the Civil War, this explosively powerful new drama by Pulitzer Prize-winner Suzan-Lori Parks follows a slave, Hero, from West Texas to the Confederate battlefield. Inspired in part by the stories and scope of Greek tragedy, this trilogy examines the mess of war and the cost of freedom. American Repertory Theater, Loeb Drama Center, 64 Brattle St., Cambridge, 617-547-8300. Beginning Jan 23. $25–55.

Sights of Interest

CAMBRIDGE COMMON/ OLD BURYING GROUND
Massachusetts Avenue and Garden Street. A grazing pasture and cemetery for Puritan Newtowne, as well as a favorite meeting spot for public figures and a tent site for the Continental Army. Early college presidents and town residents were buried in "God's Acre" across from the Common.

CHRIST CHURCH

The Back Bay skyline at night

BACK BAY

This famous neighborhood is truly the hub of the Hub

Exquisite architecture and world-class retailers are plentiful in Boston's most well-known neighborhood. The Victorian brick and brownstone residences that line the streets are not only beautiful, they're widely regarded as the best-preserved examples of 19th-century urban design in the United States. Newbury and Boylston streets, where luxury shops vie for space amidst outstanding restaurants, welcome visitors and residents alike. Back Bay is also home to the iconic Prudential Tower, Trinity Church, Boston Public Library, the John Hancock Tower and two sprawling shopping malls connected by a climate-controlled bridge. You'll also find standout salons, spas, antique shops and galleries throughout. Nightlife thrives in Back Bay as well, where chic hotel bars, world-class restaurants and swanky lounges abound.

BACK BAY ARCHITECTURAL TREASURES

Five notable landmarks representing the best in Boston architecture

TRINITY CHURCH (206 Clarendon St., Copley Square, 617-536-0944, trinitychurchboston.org, pictured): Often hailed as the most significant building in the city, this 1877 house of worship was designed by famed architect H.H. Richardson in a style that would come to be known as "Richardsonian Romanesque." Richardson created outstanding buildings around the U.S., but this is considered his masterpiece.

BOSTON PUBLIC LIBRARY (700 Boylston St., Copley Square, 617-536-5400, bpl.org): Two notable designers contributed to this historic edifice: Charles Follen McKim crafted the older, classical original in 1895, while modern architect Philip Johnson was responsible for the addition that debuted in 1972.

JOHN HANCOCK TOWER (200 Clarendon St.): Situated in Copley Square along with the previous two entries, this mirrored skyscraper—the tallest in New England—was designed by I.M. Pei & Partners, the creators of the glass pyramids at the Louvre. Despite early controversy and design flaws, the building has become a beloved part of the Back Bay skyline.

NEW OLD SOUTH CHURCH (645 Boylston St., 617-536-1970, oldsouth.org): This National Historic Landmark, built in the ornate Venetian Gothic style by Charles Amos Cummings and Willard T. Sears for one of the oldest religious congregations in the country, is punctuated by a 246-foot tower and a striking copper cupola over the main sanctuary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PLAZA (Huntington Avenue, between Belvidere Street and Massachusetts Avenue, christianscience.com): Another project by I.M. Pei & Partners completed in the early 1970s, this open area, boasting a huge reflecting pool and spray fountain, unifies the many buildings on the church's campus, including the Romanesque Original Mother Church of 1894, its 1906 extension capped by a massive Byzantine-style dome and the 1934 Christian Science Publishing House, home to the Mary Baker Eddy Library and its stained-glass Mapparium. —Scott Roberto

Old North Church

NORTH END

Fabulous cuisine, shopping and history are abundant in Boston's Little Italy

Italian culture reigns in the North End, Boston's oldest and busiest neighborhood. The sweet scent of fresh cannoli rises from countless Italian bakeries that populate this district's narrow cobblestone streets, while the veritable buffet of dining choices will have you wishing there were more than three meals to enjoy in a day. Recently, clothing and home decor boutiques have been setting up shop here, making the North End an even more diverse and desirable destination. Don't even try to find a parking space—it's best to hop on the T or walk. If you happen to be strolling The Freedom Trail, you'll discover three of the North End's most important historical sites: The Paul Revere House, Copp's Hill Burying Ground and the Old North Church. Summertime brings people into the streets to celebrate various Italian feasts with music, socializing and, of course, sensational food.

NORTH END HISTORIC SITES

Five must-see spots on and off the Freedom Trail

PAUL REVERE HOUSE (19 North Square, 617-523-2338, paulreverehouse.org, pictured): The oldest standing residence in Boston, this historic home was built around 1680 and was home to its namesake and his family from 1770–1800. This well-preserved Colonial-era edifice is a stop on the Freedom Trail.

OLD NORTH CHURCH (193 Salem St., 617-523-6676, oldnorth.org): Remember "one if by land, two if by sea" from your U.S. History class? This is the spot from where the signal was sent that alerted revolution-minded colonists of British troop movements in 1775. Officially known as Christ Church and still an active house of worship, this famed lantern-hanging site was built in 1723 and is a favorite fixture on the Freedom Trail.

COPP'S HILL BURYING GROUND (Hull Street): Founded in 1659, this is the city's second oldest cemetery, after fellow Freedom Trail site King's Chapel Burying Ground (1630). Interred here are the Mather family of Puritan preachers, Edmund Hartt (builder of the USS Constitution) and Robert Newman, the man who hung the signal lanterns in the steeple of the Old North Church on the eve of the American Revolution.

ST. STEPHEN'S CHURCH (401 Hanover St.): The only church left in Boston designed by the father of American architecture Charles Bulfinch, St. Stephen's—originally a Congregationalist house of worship known as the New North Church when it was dedicated in 1804—is an active Catholic Church. Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, native North Ender and matriarch of the iconic political family, was baptized here in 1890.

CLOUGH HOUSE (21 Unity St.): Located next to the Old North Church, this 18th-century home today hosts Captain Jackson's Historic Chocolate Shop, where visitors can learn how cocoa confections were made in pre-Revolution days, and the Printing Office of Edes & Gill, a replica of a Colonial Era print shop complete with historical interpreters who demonstrate how their vintage equipment was used. —Scott Roberto

BEACON HILL

An old-world feeling awaits you in this quaint part of the city

Strolling along Beacon Hill's picturesque gas-lit streets, brick sidewalks and Federal-style row houses, it's not uncommon to feel as though you've traveled back in time. Both eminently posh and utterly accommodating, this area has borne witness to much of the city's storied past. The State House—with its gleaming gold dome—sits on the peak of the hill where the beacon for which the district was named used to reside. In this neighborhood, visitors can also find the African Meeting House, which holds the Museum of African-American History, as well as the Bull and Finch Pub, the inspiration for the popular TV show, "Cheers." Charles Street, located at the flat of the hill, is lined with boutiques, restaurants, cafes and charming hotels. Locals descend the hill daily to enjoy all that Charles Street has to offer, adding to the feeling of small-town charm.

DOWNTOWN

City life at its best, where everything is within walking distance

In the heart of Boston, Downtown is where it's happening. New residential developments, like Millennium Place, are attracting hundreds of new residents, while sophisticated European-based restaurants and retailers give the district an international flavor. Downtown boasts numerous attractions, including the historic Theatre District, where award-winning architectural treasures were restored to their original glory. The Ladder District features a growing restaurant scene, while Downtown Crossing, the area's retail center, hosts New England's largest Jewelers District and Macy's flagship Boston store. The popular Freedom Trail courses through the area. Downtown's Financial District, an economic engine for the city, is home to a growing roster of tech start-ups and the acclaimed Post Office Square. One of the most walkable neighborhoods in the country, Downtown is easily reached via MBTA subway and bus lines and includes several Hubway bike-rental stations.

Covering more than 7,000 acres in the suburbs of Boston, Blue Hills Reservation a number of fun seasonal activities, including camping, fishing, hiking, mountain biking and downhill skiing, as well as scenic views and more than 125 miles of trails for any outdoor enthusiast.

CAPE ANN
Visitors will be mesmerized by this charming region's combination of sprawling waterfront vistas, sleepy harbors and quaint New England architecture. Just an hour north by train or I-95/Rte. 128, you'll find whale watches, lighthouses, superb antique shops, countless galleries and museums, as well as top-notch theater venues and warm bed and breakfasts.

MINUTE MAN NATIONAL HISTORICAL PARK
978-369-6993, Concord and Lexington (North Bridge Visitor Center, 174 Liberty St., Concord). Park grounds open sunrise to sunset. Created in 1959 to preserve the sites associated with the opening battles of the American Revolution, Minute Man Park consists of more than 900 acres of land along original segments of the Battles of Lexington and Concord, including Lexington Green and Concord's North Bridge, as well as The Wayside, the 19th-century home of literary greats Nathaniel Hawthorne and Louisa May Alcott.

PROVINCETOWN
Located on the tip of Cape Cod, Provincetown marches to its own beat. This New England fishing village and prominent art colony is home to a thriving gay community, and is also where playwright Eugene O'Neill penned some of his best work and Thoreau completed his walk around the Cape. Provincetown boasts miles of beaches, a charming and eclectic shopping district, trails for hiking and biking, and whale watches for those looking to escape the busy city.

SALEM
This North Shore town is known for the Salem Witch Trials of 1692, but Salem also boasts a bustling wharf with many bars and restaurants, and is regarded as an up-and-coming enclave for the young and trendy. Fans of spooky stuff can visit the New England Pirate Museum to see what life was like when Blackbeard roamed the high seas, or tiptoe through the Salem Witch Museum or Witch Dungeon Museum. On Halloween, the city transforms into one giant party for ghosts and ghouls, but 365 days a year, Salem is a charming place to explore and enjoy.

Ticket sales from Freedom Trail Foundation tours help preserve the historic sites. Boston National Historical Park tours (National Park Service) begin at Faneuil Hall. Call 617-357-8300 or visit TheFreedomTrail.org for additional info.

1 BOSTON COMMON

Set aside in 1634 as a military training field and grazing pasture, the Common is America's oldest public park. It served as quarters for British as well as Colonial troops, and later housed Civil War regiments. The British Army set out for the start of the Revolutionary War from what is now Park Square.

2 THE STATE HOUSE

Beacon St. on top of Beacon Hill, 617-727-3676. Mon–Fri 8:45 a.m.–5 p.m., except holidays. Registration required for guided tours. The golden dome marks the government seat of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. On land acquired from John Hancock, Samuel Adams laid the cornerstone, and the red brick portion was designed by architect Charles Bulfinch.

3 PARK STREET CHURCH Corner of Park and Tremont Sts., 617-523-3383. Tue–Sat 9:30 a.m.–3 p.m. Services: Sun at 8:30 and 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Morning services are traditional, evening services are contemporary. Built in 1809, this church was described by Henry James as "the most interesting mass of brick and mortar in America."

4 OLD GRANARY BURYING GROUND Tremont St. next to Park Street Church, 617-635-4505. Daily 10 a.m.–5 p.m. This historic cemetery is the final resting place of John Hancock, Paul Revere, Samuel Adams and the victims of the Boston Massacre, as well as Elizabeth Goose, believed to be the legendary "Mother Goose."

5 KING'S CHAPEL & BURYING GROUND Tremont and School Sts., 617-227-2155. Chapel: Mon–Sat opens at 10 a.m. Sun opens at 1:30 p.m. Services: Sun at 11 a.m., Wed at 12:15 p.m. Burying Ground: daily 10 a.m.–5 p.m. Still an active house of worship, King's Chapel was established in 1687 as the first Anglican congregation in Boston.

6 SITE OF FIRST PUBLIC SCHOOL & BEN FRANKLIN'S STATUE On School Street, marked by a column and commemorative plaque. On April 13, 1635, the town voted to establish the first public school in the country. Nearby is Benjamin Franklin's statue, built in 1856, the first portrait statue erected in the United States.

7 SITE OF THE OLD CORNER BOOKSTORE

School and Washington Sts. Constructed as an apothecary in 1718, the ground floor was later a bookstore and literary center of Boston and a meeting place for notables like Emerson, Hawthorne and Thoreau.

8 OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE 310 Washington St., 617-482-6439. Daily 10 a.m.–4 p.m. Admission: $6; seniors & students $5; children (6–18) $1; children (under 6) free. This building housed many town meetings, the most famous of which saw an outraged Samuel Adams signal the start of the Boston Tea Party.

CHEF DU JOUR

NICKI HOBSON brings a sea-to-table approach to Island Creek Oyster Bar

NICKI HOBSON'S PHONE BEGINS ringing every morning at 7:30 a.m. It's her fish suppliers. They're calling from boats all over the Boston area, reporting to her which catches are freshest and best for the day's menu. Once she's made her choices she begins mentally planning the menu. "Usually I've been planning it in my sleep," she laughs. "But most days by nine I've ordered the fish and I can make a more concrete list." Her menus change daily based on what ingredients are available. This gives the talented young chef a lot of room for creativity.

As Chef de Cuisine at Island Creek Oyster Bar, Hobson is most proud of the restaurant's farm-to-table, or rather sea-to-table, approach. "I love the simplicity of finding an ingredient and knowing it doesn't need much manipulation to taste great," she says. Fish has always been the main player at Island Creek, though Hobson uses her fresh local ingredients to bring out other flavors in the meal as well.

Hobson has always had a love affair with food. Growing up with a mother and grandmother who both loved French cooking, Hobson began working in the kitchen early on. She received her first cookbook at age 9. Shortly into her college career studying psychology, Hobson realized that she found more joy in the kitchen. After graduating top of her class from the Boston University culinary program, her career catapulted. Following a trip to Florence to study Italian cooking, she returned to Boston to join Island Creek.

According to Hobson, the trick to pulling off a morning-of menu is having strong relationships with your suppliers. If one of them notices that the halibut she ordered isn't up to her standards, he'll call and offer something better. For January, Hobson is pairing seasonal bay scallops with tangy winter citrus.

The vibe of Island Creek Oyster Bar changes dramatically throughout the year. Located in the Fenway neighborhood, much of its summer crowd comes from the baseball field. "During the Red Sox season we have to edit our menu to accommodate the heavy traffic," admits Hobson. Diners want to get in, out and off to the game. During the winter the crowd is more relaxed, and more interested in an extensive dining experience. "In the winter season people want to sit here for two or three hours and enjoy their meal," Hobson observes. Either way, she's been working since 7:30 a.m. to bring them the best fish possible.
