ROW, ROW, ROW YOUR BOAT

Way back in 1965, Harvard University sculling instructor Ernest Arlett felt there was something missing from the local rowing scene. In his native England, "head of the river" races were all the rage, and he proposed a similar event on the Charles River where boats would compete in a three-mile race. Nearly 50 years later, the Head of the Charles Regatta is the largest two-day rowing competition in the world, and it's back in Boston October 19 and 20. More than 9,000 athletes descend on the greater Boston area to compete in 55 different race events. The regatta draws hundreds of thousands of spectators to the riverbanks as well. One of the liveliest viewing sites is the Weld Exhibition at Harvard's Weld Boathouse, where vendors sell food and other goodies. A more upscale experience can be had at the Eliot Bridge Enclosure, a ticketed tent with gourmet catering and a comfortable vantage point. Find out more at hocr.org. —Erica Jackson Curran

BOOKWORMS UNITE

Bostonians are a bookish lot, so it's no surprise that the Boston Book Festival is a highly anticipated event every year. Scheduled for October 17–19, the fest includes workshops, performances, author presentations and more. The keynote speaker is novelist Salman Rushdie (pictured) of The Satanic Verses fame, and he'll be speaking at one of the festival's only ticketed events on Friday. On Saturday, "You're the Expert" brings together comedians Myq Kaplan, Brendan Pelsue and Robert Woo. Events are centered around Copley Square at venues like Trinity Church, the Old South Church and the Boston Public Library. A street fair in the square boasts exhibitors, kid's activities and live music all day Saturday. The full lineup is at bostonbookfest.org. —Erica Jackson Curran

STAR-CROSSED LOVERS

Boston Ballet transports audiences to ancient India this fall as they present La Bayadère October 24–November 3. The company returns to Florence Clerc's staging of Marius Petipa's tragic production three years after it made its world premiere at the Boston Opera House in 2010. First performed in Russia in 1877, La Bayadère follows Kikiya, a young temple dancer, and her lover Solor, a warrior. However, Solor is being forced to marry someone else, and the powerful High Brahmin is in love with Nikiya. Jealousy, bribery and opium-smoking ensues until the couple is reunited for eternity in the Kingdom of Shades. Attend the October 26 performance for a free pre-curtain talk with special guests, or go on November 2 for a talk with Boston Ballet Artistic Director Mikko Nissinen. See the full schedule and buy tickets at bostonballet.org. —Erica Jackson Curran

BOSTON'S MOST HAUNTED PLACES

Omni Parker House

Central Burying Ground on Boston Common

Cutler Majestic Theatre

View toward the Tremont Street subway tunnel, 1904

In a city as old as Boston, we wouldn't be surprised to find a few ghosts hanging around. Founded in 1630, the city has seen its share of tragedy. Here are a few of Boston's most haunted places.

Omni Parker House (60 School St.): Situated right on the Freedom Trail, the Omni Parker House has been a symbol of luxury in Boston since 1855. It's also known as one of the city's most haunted spots. Hotel founder Harvey Parker is said to roam the halls—although he hasn't been spotted in about 20 years. Other ghostly encounters that have been reported: Elevators acting of their own accord, shadowy figures, orbs of light on the 10th floor and the sound of creaking rocking chairs. Of course, there are no rocking chairs at the Omni Parker House.

Cutler Majestic Theatre (219 Tremont St.): When the Majestic Theatre opened its doors in 1903, the Boston Globe raved that it was the most beautiful playhouse the city had ever seen. The ornate theater still serves as a popular venue for shows, but it's also become known for its ghostly residents. Some say they've seen the ghost of a former Boston mayor who died during a performance, while others say the theater is home to a little girl who accepts hidden gifts that are left for her.

Boston Common: The country's oldest public park may look cheerful and innocent during the day, but nighttime reveals the Common's dark past. The park was the site of public hangings until 1817, and there you'll also find the old Central Burying Ground. Considered the least desirable burial ground in the city because of its location, the cemetery contains the graves of foreigners who died in Boston, British soldiers who died during the Revolution and patriots from the Battle of Bunker Hill. Witnesses have reported seeing a woman in black roaming the grounds.

The T: Boston's subway system is the oldest in the country, and if you've ever waited for a train in an empty station, you know just how creepy the city's underground tunnels can be. Last year, the Biography Channel sent a team of paranormal investigators to explore the city's underground and they came back with some unsettling discoveries. At one point during their visit, deep within the tunnels, their flashlights and all of their equipment died. Some might say it was a communication from the ghosts of six people who were killed by a gas explosion along the corner of Boylston and Tremont streets in 1897.

PANORAMA's GUIDE TO SPOOKY BOSTON

Whether you're a Halloween fiend or a sucker for anything pumpkin-flavored, fall is a terrific time to be in Boston. Here are our top picks for what to see, do and eat to get in the seasonal spirit.

BY ERICA JACKSON CURRAN

Market of the Living Dead

SoWA is hosting its final outdoor market of the season on October 27, and to mark the occasion it's throwing a Dia de Los Muertos Costume Contest. It's open to everyone, so be sure to wear your most skull-tacular attire. Prizes are awarded to the top three costumes. The market's usual vendors, food trucks and fun will be there with a distinctly Halloween flair.
460 Harrison Ave., 800-403-8305, sowaopenmarket.com

Seasonal Sweets at Towne

Towne Stove & Spirits has a new chef, new menus and some tasty new autumn-inspired desserts. We're partial to the Maple Cotton Candy, the Pumpkin Profiteroles and the Spiced Cranberry Cider with Cinnamon Sugar Donuts.
900 Boylston St., 617-247-0400, towneboston.com

Scary Movies at Coolidge

The Coolidge Corner Theatre gets spooky with its after-midnight movies throughout the month of October. The schedule includes Insidious, The Witches, Beetlejuice (pictured) and a Halloween Horror Movie Marathon on October 26.
290 Harvard St., Brookline, 617-734-2501, coolidge.org

The Haunted Ship

Tour the USS Salem, a real United States battleship, and be prepared to find scares around every corner.
738 Washington St., Quincy, 617-479-7900, hauntedship.com

The Turn of the Screw

The theater company Simple Machine takes on Henry James' gothic thriller The Turn of the Screw. The ghost story is staged in two historic Victorian houses in Boston, The Gibson House Museum (137 Beacon St.) and the Taylor House Bed & Breakfast (50 Burroughs St.). Performances begin November 8.
857-574-0550, simplemachinetheatre.com

Zoo Howl

Children are invited to the Franklin Park Zoo to trick-or-treat among the animals. Organizers promise creepy crafts, ghoulish games, a haunted maze and, of course, plenty of candy. It's happening October 26 and 27.
1 Franklin Park Road, 617-541-LION, zoonewengland.org

Harvard Square Ghost Tour

Join a professional storyteller on a nighttime stroll through the historic streets of Cambridge. Meet in front of the Harvard Coop Thursday–Sunday, and just look for the guides in hoop skirts and top hats. Reservations are recommended.
1400 Massachusetts Ave., 617-520-4030, cambridgehistoricaltours.org

Autumn Specials at Dick's Last Resort

Perhaps best known for its sarcastic servers, Dick's Last Resort at Faneuil Hall Marketplace also churns out some tasty grub. Stop by to try its Apple Pie in the Sky with a Shipyard Pumpkin Head Beer.
4 N. Market St., 617-267-8080, dickslastresort.com

Fall Drinks at Legal Sea Foods

Legal Sea Foods is getting in on the haunted holiday spirit with a seasonal menu of cocktails. Try the Kentucky Maple Mahattan (bourbon, sweet vermouth, bitters, maple syrup), the Deadrise (vodka, lime and grapefruit bitters, muddled cucumber) or the apple sangria (pictured).

Ghosts and Gravestones Frightseeing Tour

Climb aboard the Trolley of Doom through mid-November for this spooky tour of Boston's dark side. A 17th century gravedigger guides you through the city's burial grounds, shares ghost stories and takes you to where the Boston Strangler once prowled.

BLUE MAN GROUP
Charles Playhouse, 74 Warrenton St., 617-931-2787, 617-426-6912, blueman.com. Ongoing. Tickets: $55 & 105. This giddily subversive off-Broadway hit serves up outrageous and inventive theater where three muted, blue-painted performers spoof both contemporary art and modern technology. Wry commentary and bemusing antics are matched only by the ingenious ways in which music and sound are created. The show has recently been updated with new performance pieces and music.

INSIDE TIP: Blue Man Group was originally formed in New York City in 1987.

North Shore Music Theatre, 62 Dunham Road, Beverly, 978-232-7200. Beginning Nov 5. Tickets: $45–75. This classic love story sets Puccini's Madame Butterfly within the turmoil of the Vietnam War, where an American soldier and a Vietnamese girl fall in love, only to be separated during the fall of Saigon. Their struggles to find each other over the ensuing years is a moving testament to the human spirit as she fights to find a better life for the child he never knew he had.

THE POWER OF DUFF
Huntington Theatre Company, Boston University Theatre, 264 Huntington Ave., 617-266-0800, huntingtontheatre.org. Through Nov 9. Tickets: $15–80. When burnt-out local TV newscaster Charlie Duff suddenly begins offering a prayer at the end of his nightly broadcasts, he instantly becomes a popular and controversial figure to an expanding audience. But even as his prayers inspire millions, Charlie struggles with his own beliefs and his inability to connect with his estranged son.

SHEAR MADNESS
Charles Playhouse Stage II, 74 Warrenton St., 617-426-5225, shearmadness.com. Ongoing. Tickets: $50. Fresh, funny and up-to-the-minute, this record-breaking comedy whodunit lets the audience spot the clues, question the suspects and solve the funniest murder mystery in the annals of crime. This production, which originated in Boston, has audiences laughing around the world.

SPLENDOR
Company One, Plaza Theatre, Boston Center for the Arts, 539 Tremont St., 617-933-8600. Beginning Oct 18. Tickets: $20–38. On Thanksgiving eve in a town just north of Boston, Fran is determined to make a nice turkey dinner for her chain-smoking klepto mother and her couch-surfing older brother. If only it were that simple. This vivid collage of local stories exposes a community where generations of families collide over far more than pumpkin pie and stuffing.

WATER BY THE SPOONFUL
Lyric Stage Company of Boston, 140 Clarendon St., 617-585-5678, lyricstage.com. Beginning Oct 18. Tickets: $29–61. This Pulitzer Prize-winning play by Quiara Alegría Hudes is a moving collage of lives in crisis. A group of seemingly unrelated characters search for human connection in a harsh and destabilizing world, looking for hope among their new-found "family." One by one, the troubled souls find acceptance, connection, even redemption, in this lyrical and lucid new play.

Massachusetts State House

BEACON HILL

An old-world feeling awaits you in this quaint part of the city

Strolling along Beacon Hill's picturesque gas-lit streets, brick sidewalks and Federal-style row houses, it's not uncommon to feel as though you've travelled back in time. Both eminently posh and utterly accommodating, this area has borne witness to much of the city's storied past. The State House—with its gleaming gold dome—sits on the peak of the hill where the beacon for which the district was named used to reside. In this neighborhood, visitors can also find the African Meeting House, which holds the Museum of African-American History, as well as the Bull and Finch Pub, the inspiration for the popular TV show, "Cheers." Charles Street, located at the flat of the hill, is lined with boutiques, restaurants, cafes and charming hotels. Locals descend the hill daily to enjoy all that Charles Street has to offer, adding to the feeling of small-town charm.

BACK BAY

This famous neighborhood is truly the hub of the Hub

Exquisite architecture and world-class retailers are plentiful in Boston's most well-known neighborhood. The Victorian brick and brownstone residences that line the streets are not only beautiful, they're widely regarded as the best-preserved examples of 19th-century urban design in the United States. Newbury and Boylston streets, where luxury shops vie for space amidst outstanding restaurants, welcome visitors and residents alike. Back Bay is also home to the iconic Prudential Tower, Trinity Church, Boston Public Library, the John Hancock Tower and two sprawling shopping malls connected by a climate-controlled bridge. You'll also find standout salons, spas, antique shops and galleries throughout. Nightlife thrives in Back Bay as well, where chic hotel bars, world-class restaurants and swanky lounges abound.

NORTH END

Fabulous cuisine, shopping and history are abundant in Boston's Little Italy

Italian culture reigns in the North End, Boston's oldest and busiest neighborhood. The sweet scent of fresh cannoli rises from countless Italian bakeries that populate this district's narrow cobblestone streets, while the veritable buffet of dining choices will have you wishing there were more than three meals to enjoy in a day. Recently, clothing and home decor boutiques have been setting up shop here, making the North End an even more diverse and desirable destination. Don't even try to find a parking space—it's best to hop on the T or walk. If you happen to be strolling The Freedom Trail, you'll discover three of the North End's most important historical sites: The Paul Revere House, Copp's Hill Burying Ground and the Old North Church. Summertime brings people into the streets to celebrate various Italian feasts with music, socializing and, of course, sensational food.

Downtown's Theatre District has transformed into a vibrant shopping, dining and nightlife destination

DOWNTOWN

City life at its best, where everything is within walking distance

In the heart of Boston, Downtown is where it's happening. Both a local and international hub, Downtown Boston boasts a wide range of attractions, hotels, historic architecture, residential living, unique retail shops and cultural, dining and entertainment options, all within a half-mile radius. Downtown intersects with the historic Theatre District, in which award-winning architectural treasures were restored to their original glory. The Ladder District is a growing entertainment hub known for its popular restaurants and nightlife. Downtown Crossing is the area's retail center, with an eclectic mix of shopping options, including New England's largest Jewelers District and Macy's Boston flagship store. The popular Freedom Trail courses through the area, while the Financial District, an economic engine for the city, showcases a wealth of modern architecture, as well as the acclaimed Post Office Square Park.

FREEDOM TRAIL

The Freedom Trail begins at the Boston Common Information Kiosk, where you can obtain a guide map, rent a self-guided audio tour or take a walking tour (in season) with an 18th-century costumed guide. Ticket sales from Freedom Trail Foundation tours help preserve the historic sites. Boston National Historical Park tours (National Park Service) begin at Faneuil Hall. Call 617-357-8300 or visit TheFreedomTrail.org for additional info.

1 BOSTON COMMON Set aside in 1634 as a military training field and grazing pasture, the Common is America's oldest public park. It served as quarters for British as well as Colonial troops, and later housed Civil War regiments. The British Army set out for the start of the Revolutionary War from what is now Park Square.

2 THE STATE HOUSE Beacon St. on top of Beacon Hill, 617-727-3676. Mon–Fri 10 a.m.–4 p.m., except holidays. Registration required for guided tours. The golden dome marks the government seat of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. On land acquired from John Hancock, Samuel Adams laid the cornerstone, and the red brick portion was designed by architect Charles Bulfinch.

3 PARK STREET CHURCH Corner of Park and Tremont Sts, 617-523-3383. Tue–Sat 8 a.m.–3 p.m. Services: Sun at 8:30 and 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. Morning services are traditional, evening services are contemporary. Built in 1809, this church was described by Henry James as "the most interesting mass of brick and mortar in America."

4 OLD GRANARY BURYING GROUND Tremont St. next to Park Street Church, 617-635-4505. Daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m. This historic cemetery is the final resting place of John Hancock, Paul Revere, Samuel Adams and the victims of the Boston Massacre, as well as Elizabeth Goose, believed to be the legendary "Mother Goose."

5 KING'S CHAPEL & BURYING GROUND Tremont and School Sts., 617-227-2155. Chapel: Mon, Thu–Sat 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Sun 1:30–5 p.m. Services: Sun at 11 a.m., Wed at 12:15 p.m. Burying Ground: daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Still an active house of worship, King's Chapel was established in 1687 as the first Anglican congregation in Boston.

6 SITE OF FIRST PUBLIC SCHOOL & BEN FRANKLIN'S STATUE On School Street, marked by a column and commemorative plaque. On April 13, 1635, the town voted to establish the first public school in the country. Nearby is Benjamin Franklin's statue, built in 1856, the first portrait statue erected in the United States.

7 SITE OF THE OLD CORNER BOOKSTORE School and Washington Sts. Constructed as an apothecary in 1718, the ground floor was later a bookstore and literary center of Boston and a meeting place for notables like Emerson, Hawthorne and Thoreau.

8 OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE 310 Washington St., 617-482-6439. Daily 9:30 a.m.–5 p.m. Admission: $6; seniors & students $5; children (6–18) $1; children (under 6) free. This building housed many town meetings, the most famous of which saw an outraged Samuel Adams signal the start of the Boston Tea Party.

9 OLD STATE HOUSE Corner of Washington and State streets, 617-720-1713. Daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Admission: $8.50; seniors & students $7.50; children, military & veterans free. Built in 1713, this seat of Colonial government was the center of activity for such patriots as John Hancock and Samuel and John Adams. It was here that the Declaration of Independence was first read in Boston.

10 BOSTON MASSACRE SITE State Street in front of the Old State House. At the next intersection below the State House, a ring of cobblestones marks the site of the clash between a jeering Boston crowd and a British guard of nine soldiers on March 5, 1770.

11 FANEUIL HALL Merchants Row and Faneuil Hall Square, 617-242-5689. Daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Historical talks given every half hour from 9:30 a.m.–4:30 p.m., when hall is not in use. "The Cradle of Liberty" combines a marketplace on the first floor with the town meeting hall upstairs, the site of fiery revolutionary debate.

12 PAUL REVERE HOUSE 19 North Square, North Street, 617-523-2338. Daily 9:30 a.m.–5:15 p.m.; beginning Nov 1—'til 4:15 p.m. Admission: $3.50; seniors & students $3; children (5–17) $1.* The oldest home in Boston (built c. 1680), occupied by silversmith and patriot Paul Revere from 1770 to 1800. United States.

13 OLD NORTH CHURCH 193 Salem St., 617-523-6676. Daily 9 a.m.–6 p.m.; beginning Nov 1—10 a.m.–5 p.m. Services: Sun at 9 and 11 a.m.* Known as Christ Church and erected in 1723, this is Boston's oldest standing church. Two lanterns were hung here on April 18, 1775, signaling the Redcoats' departure by sea for Lexington and Concord.

14 COPP'S HILL BURYING GROUND Hull Street. Daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Set out in 1660, Copp's Hill was Boston's second cemetery. Many remarkable people are interred here, including the Mather family of ministers and Edmund Hartt, builder of the USS Constitution.

15 BUNKER HILL MONUMENT Breed's Hill, Charlestown, 617-242-7511. Daily 9 a.m.–5 p.m., last climb at 4:30 p.m. The site of the historic battle of June 17, 1775.

16 USS CONSTITUTION Charlestown Navy Yard, Charlestown, 617-242-5670. Tue–Sun 10 a.m.–4 p.m. Tours every half-hour 'til 3:30 p.m. This 44-gun frigate is the world's oldest commissioned warship, christened "Old Ironsides" during the War of 1812 when cannonballs literally bounced off her triple hull.

AMERICAN CLASSIC

Thanks to TONY FUSCO, the Ellis Boston Antiques Show is running strong

WHEN THE ELLIS ANTIQUES SHOW closed its doors in 2008, Boston's antiques community was shocked. Just a year shy of its 50th anniversary, it was one of the longest-running shows of its kind in the country. Unfortunately, the volunteer-run event couldn't withstand the financial strain of the recession.

Enter Tony Fusco, an antiques enthusiast and co-founder of Fusco & Four marketing agency. He didn't want to see the Ellis Antiques Show die, so he sprang into action. It took a couple of years to bring it back, yet in 2011 the show reopened, and it returns October 24-27 to the Cyclorama.

"We couldn't imagine a world-class city like Boston without an antiques show," Fusco says. "Every major city in the country and smaller cities have an annual antiques show."

The event attracts dealers, buyers, interior decorators and the curious to see antiques from 40 American and European dealers and galleries. Unlike the earlier version of the Ellis show, the current iteration is a bit looser with the term "antique."

"Antique shows used to require that everything in the show was a veritable antique —100 years old or older," Fusco says. "People really aren't buying and collecting that way anymore, so we don't have a restriction on when the material is produced." While you won't see anything contemporary at the Cyclorama, you will find some art nouveau and mid-century modern pieces right alongside Greek and Roman antiquities.

"The collecting community in Boston is very sophisticated," Fusco says. "We're steeped in history here, and we have a large population of people who are very concerned with historic preservation…We have such a wealth of history here that it lends itself to people appreciating all sort of aspects of the historical context of the city."

Besides browsing for art, furniture, ceramics and jewelry, attendees can visit informal dealer booth talks throughout the weekend to learn more about everything from clocks to 18th century lighting. Fusco wants the show to be accessible to everyone—and even occasionally affordable. "I don't want the show to be so expensive that people just have sticker shock and leave," Fusco says. "I want people to come and fall in love with something and feel like they can take it home." —Erica Jackson Curran
